dent to increase the army to whatever size necessary to win the war was proposed to the house military committee in executive session today by Secretary Baker, Maj. Gen. March, acting chief of staff, and Provost Mar shal General Crowder.

An administration amendment to selective draft act to provide this and prompt action on it is asked.

Secretary Baker told the committee it would be unwise to set a limit on the number of men who could be called to the colors. USE OF POTATOES TO SAVE WHEAT is demanded by the present situation, because greater quantities of wheat must be conserved, for the use of the American forces and the Allied armies in Europe, and also because an unusually large supply of potatoes remains in the hands of the growers. Great quantities of these will go to waste unless the, are used even more freely and in a greater variety of ways than is customary with American *

With the basic price of wheat fixed as at present, flour is $13.70 a barrel, or 7 cents a pound. If, then, potatoes can be obtained at $1.20 a bushel, which is 2 cents a pound, it is an economy as well as a war service to use potatoes as a substitute for flour in bread making. #### Organizing All Our Man Power

THE president is said to be considering rather favorably a proposal sub- one of the 14 counties in the district United States seems about to acquire mitted to him by the general staff of the army, calling for an organization of American man-power far beyond anything ever attempted in our history. The plan contemplates the compulsory registration of every man Drew of Nelson, Hopkins of Hamilin the country from 18 years of age to 50, the sorting of all these millions Marion, Fuestman of South Dixon, House. according to their situation and capacity, and their assignment to whatever Penny of Dixon, Entorf of Amboy, expected. tasks are most necessary for successful prosecution of the war.

The registry would be somewhat similar to that already enforced with Wyoming, Fassig of Brooklyn, and Banner" as the official anthem and regard to men from 21 to 31, for the selective service. Every male within Rhoades of Willow Creek; and Town provide that officers and men shall the age limits mentioned would be obliged to fill out a questionnaire blank. Clerks Geiger of Nelson, Glessner of stand at attention while it is being After that he would be at the disposal of the government.

Needless to say, there is no intention of drafting into the army youths of Brooklyn, Herman of Willow of 18, nor men up to 50. It is considered desirable to obtain dependable data on the nation's full military resources, but that is a minor matter. The big idea is to mobilize and organize the nation economically.

With such a system in operation, the government would be able to deal more intelligently and effectively with its industrial man-power. Idlers of any age could be given the alternative of working or entering the army Labor could be distributed as needed among the various industries. Men could be shifted from unimportant industries to those vitally necessary for the war. Any man of special experience or talent could be assigned to the war task for which he is best fitted.

There will be objections to this plan, no doubt, if the government TODAY'S LIST HAS 88 NAMES undertakes to put it through. Many individuals and many groups of citizens will fear an unwarranted invasion of their "personal rights." But that objection should not be given undue weight. In the face of the supreme menace to all human rights, public or private, which now confronts the free peoples of the world, it is no time to over-emphasize our normal love of personal independence. This is the time to hang together, to organize and with the names and home addresses NOT been few. Hundreds, perhaps yield to authority, for the sake of preserving all we cherish. Even in so great an assumption of authority as this, congress and the president could no doubt be trusted not to abuse their powers. Submission to constituted authority is the paramount duty of every American.

Receipted in Full

IN a Liberty Loan speech at Philadelphia last week Friday James M Beck predicted that the United States after the war will cancel the debt incurred by the allies. "When this war ends, as it will in a victory for the clared, "and Great Britain and France will say to our govern ment 'the time has come for us to settle the matter of our great indebtedness to you in a more formal way," I believe our government will reply b writing across the paper on which the money was lent, 'Received in full And when they ask, 'Receipted in full-how?' our government will answer, 'By the blood of your sons.'" A roar of cheers greeted this exclamation Many in the audience were moved to tears, strangers shook hands with each other and cries of "Right! Right!" were heard. Mr. Beck continued:

"I would be ashamed of my country if America would take a penny of the sums now advanced or to be advanced. And, as I have said, my pro- by the United States within a year, found belief in the innate chivalry of the American character is such that I know this debt will never be mentioned in the way of repayment. And, if it be a chivalrous thing for us to expunge that debt, the victory when it is ica's work during the first year of the won will bring us greater benefit, and I must say in candor, a less deserved war. benefit than to any of the other allies. They will come out exhausted in man power and resources and with their economic strength destroyed, senator, who added that up to the affections of the American peowhereas whatever we may suffer in the matter of billions we are now raising, we are destined to leave the struggle as the first power in the world in that the $640,000,000 appropriation express sentiments that are the buleconomic strength and, if we are only true to our ideals, as the moral leader for aircraft "has been worse of the world."

Soldier Shows

WHAT sort of shows does the soldier like? The same kind that the "tired glossly failed to measure up to our business man" likes, says the war department commission on training camp activities

After a hard day's work at the stern business of learning war, he wants mirth and melody. No tragedy for him. No "deep stuff." Whether there is any plot to a piece makes little difference, so long as there's lively music clever dialogue, good dancing, pretty girls and attractive costumes. In short, he prefers music comedy, and likes vaudeville. And he insists on good quality along these lines.

So that is what the twenty-five Liberty theaters at the camps and can-ence of the Associated Press- The tonments are giving him, and that is what others will give him as soon as they are built. There is to be a theater in every training place. All of Germans is outlined in an article taht them are under the same management, all are controlled by the war de- has just appeared in German newspapartment, all are clean and decent and comfortable, all aim to please the pers, urging that all be driven out to army boys, and all give full value for money received.

The camp theater is an innovation in the military world. Other governments have encouraged camp shows, but none of them have gone to the length of building theaters, organizing companies and running the shows. The plan is found to work admirably in our army. Many of the men are enabled to see good, clean entertainments for the first time in their lives. And when they happen to be provided with "smileage books," sent them by generous friends, it costs them nothing. This recreation is given credit for contributing much to the contentment and morale of the training camps.

Why the Soldier Was Afraid

THIS soldier was afraid. He had faced machine guns, hand grenades, trench mortars, bayonets and bombs without flinching, but now he was

The place was a Red Cross canteen. He faced a smiling American woman. She had shown him where he could wash, had served him hot food and directed him to the dormitory where a clean bed would give him the sweetest rest he had known since the war began.

"What are you afraid of?" asked the woman.

"Afraid I should not wake up to catch my train back to the front." She smiled at his reply, but knew that it was a serious one with him, as to overstay a furlough is an offense against army regulations that the soldiers do not commit with impunity.

"Now, don't you be afraid," she reassured him. "Go to sleep and a Boy Scout will be on hand without fail to wake you in time for your train."

The soldier got the needed rest and made his train, too. It is just an May 127% insight into what the Red Cross canteen means to the men at the front. July The American women who operate the canteens could recount thousands July of interesting incidents.

NOT CHANGED

The recent change in telephone rental rates as set by the State Utilities Commission for the Dixon Home Telephone Company, will not go into effect immediately, according to Manager Louis Pitcher. The decision of the commission was worded "may go into effect on May 1, 1918," and the company states that the rate will not be put into effect until June 1st, and possibly not until July 1st.

BURNED TO DEATH

By Associated Press Leased Wire Omaha, Neb., May 3 .- Two mempers of the 14th Balloon company were burned to death and twenty others slightly burned when a big observation balloon exploded in its hangar in Florence Field. The explosion is believed to have been aused by static electricity generated by friction while the balloon was being put into its hangar.

NEWS PIRATING CASE

By Associated Press Leased Wire Washington, May 3 .- Arguments were resumed in the supreme court today in the proceedings brought by set aside the injunction restraining that organization from pirating Associated Press news. Samuel Untermyer, representing the International News Service, closed his opening statement and was followed by the counsel for the Associated Press.

Untermyer was asked by Justice Brandeis if the question involved in the case was not one of unfair competition between the two news agencies instead of the broader question of property rights of news.

RAIL LOSSES ARE BIG

By Associated Press Leased Wire Washington, May 3 .- The report of railroad earnings indicated roughly that the government has lost more than $100,000,000 in the operation of the railroads in January, February and March, although railroad administration officials looked for such a record as a result of the bad weather and traffic losses in January. It is believed the losses will be made up later in the year.

NATIONAL TOTAL SHORT ABOUT $160,000,000 OF THE MINIMUM.

By Associated Press Leased Wire Washington, May 3.-With partial reports on yesterday's business, the Liberty Loan total for the Third Liberty Loan campaign is $2,838,317,-300. The Chicago district is fourth to go over the top, with a subscription of $543,640,850, to cover its quota of $425,000,000.

The indications are that every state west of the Mississippi river has subscirbed its full quota.

SONS UNDER THREE FLAGS

One Woman Has Four Engaged in War Service.

Mrs. Katherine Hopf of Valley Falls, Kan., has not only given four following the flags of three nations. Two sons are in the German army, one is in France, interned at the beginning of the war, and the other is training with the American army at Camp Kearny, Cal.

The son interned in France is in northern Africa, where he has charge of some gardens. Mrs. Hopf hears from him occasionally, but has received no word from the two sons in Germany since the outbreak of the war. She probably will not hear from them again until the war ends.

Adolf Hopf, who decided to follow the Stars and Stripes, used to live in Valley Falls. He enlisted last spring.

"DE LUXE" NOW CARRIES TAX

France Has New Measure to Raise Additional Revenue.

In the latest supply bill voted by the French chamber of deputies, which is intended to raise $200,000,000 additional revenue, there is one curious clause that creates a distinct class of purveyors of public comforts.

A tax of 10 per cent on all payments for lodging, accommodation, food, drink in first-class establishments of any kind, in hotels, restaurants, cafes, pastry cooks and teashops will be imposed. A list of such establishments will be drawn up by local committees appointed by the commercial tribunals. As compensation for this tax all such establishments will have the privilege of styling themselves "de luxe." No other establishments will, by law, br allowed to call themselves "de luxe."

Legal Witticlsms.

Stories from the law courts are apt to be good, legal wit being noted for Its dryness. But this story claims no particular merit, except as showing the usefulness of a ready wit, observes the Christian Science Monitor. The counsel for the plaintiff was delivering an impassioned address. He was somewhat weighty in person, and happened to be leaning on a very old chair. In the middle of the torrent of PORTAGE TIRES eloquence, the chair gave way and the barrister lay on the floor in the midst of the wreckage. He got up and, unperturbed, pointing to the broken chair. said: "That proves the strength of my argument." The court smiled broadly, but laughed outright when the opposing counsel promptly replied: "The learned counsel's argument may be all that he claims for it, but it fell to the ground."

Pitying Ourselves.

Have you heard of the man carrying a load of sticks, who, when he became tired threw his sticks down on the bank of a river, and seating himself by them, said: "I am sick and tired of this. I wish death would come to relieve me?" Instantly Death slipped up and said, "Here I am, what do you want of me?" "I want you to help me put this bundle of sticks on my back again," said the surprised man. Pitying ourselves is cheating ourselves. Then flee from discontent and discouragement, for they are the hotheds of deceit. Near them we think that which is not true, and say that which we do not mean.-Exchange.

Bolls Eggs by Central's Ring. A telephone subscriber in Newark asked his operator to ring his bell in three minutes, and immediately hung up his receiver. At the appointed time the supervisor rang on the line and the subscriber responded merely with "Thank you." Later he called again and thanked the operator, and explained that he had been boiling eggs and wanted to time them. They had been cooked to the queen's taste, he said .-Youth's Companion.

He said he was proud of his two boys and much as he loved them and much as he realized the danger and sacrifice he would not have them elsewhere than taking part in the defense of liberty of our homes, and all else that is sacred and dear in life. That every mother who had a son that was eligible and manly enough to fight for these things, she should feel the utmost pride. An other feature of the morning service was a short program in honor of a service flag just received, which was furnished by the classes of Mesdames Johnson and Sheep. The flag has 12 blue stars on a white background representing the soldier boys from here and one gold star placed on the upper part of the red border, repre senting the one who has answered the last roll call. # GIRL SUFFERED

And Was Restored to Health By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Told By Her Mother.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for what it has done for my daughter. She was 15 years of age, very sickly and pale and she had to stay home from school most of the time.

She suffered agonies from backache and dizziness and was without appetite. For three months she was under the doctor's care and got no better, always complaining about her back and side aching so I didn't know what to do. I read in the papers about your wonderful medicine so I made up my mind to try it. She has taken five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and doesn't complain any more with her back and side aching. She has gained in weight and feels much better. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all mothers and daughters."—Mrs. M. Finore, 513 Marcy Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

400 Russian and Belgian prisoners inoculated with poison by German doctors--died in nine hours

Gunner Depew

The German doctors told them there was an epidemic of black typhus and cholera. The men submitted to inoculation.

Four hundred died in one day at Brandenburg, the worst of the German prison camps, the day "Gunner Depew" arrived there.

Out of the four camps in which he was held prisoner this American sailor lad has brought a story of cruelty inconceivable.

Two of his friends—American boys, too—were crucified by the Huns. Depew is back in America, blinded in one eye, wounded five times-knocked out.

His story—the most amazing narrative of personal experience the war has produced—will start Monday in The Evening Telegraph.

No longer need we believe the stories of German cruelty. scientifically pursued, to be imaginary. This boy has seen it all with his own eyes, has lived it and lived through it. And if there is a man who can read this simple, straightforward fact-story without boiling, his American soul is too dead for any use.

It is your patriotic duty to read every installment of "Gunner Depew" in The Evening Telegraph, starting next Monday.

Through the patriotism of the citizens of this country thousands of smoke kits are being distributed to American soldiers in France. Authorities agree that men in the trenches need cigarettes almost as much as food and munitions.

Doctors, nurses, and commanding officers all join in the demand which has awakened in this country a great movement to keep our boys supplied with smokes.

Millions of the famous LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes are "going over" all the time. There's something about the idea of the toested cigarette that appeals to the men who spend their time in cold, wet trenches and billets.

Then, too, the real Kentucky Durley tobacco of the LUCKY STRIKE cigarette gives them the solid satisfaction of a pipe, with a lot less trouble,

GREAT EFFECT OF ARSENIC

Seems to Rebuild and Beautify, but is Cumulative Poison-Also Aids Digestion.

"You no doubt have observed the lily white complexion of some wom-These women are sacrificing years of their lives for that beautiful skin by the use of arsenic," said D. V. Dovan, a chemist of Manchester, England, at the Shoreham.

"It is a well-known fact that thousands of women in all countries of the world use the poison in small quantities to bleach their skin. It is an effective means of whitening and clearing the complexion, but the complexion given by its use has no permanency, unless the absorption of the drug be continued.

"Arsenic, as science has long told us, is an accumulative poison. When the upbuilding of an appetite or for the bleaching of the skin, he does not feel any ill effects for several years. The effect of the drug is bracing, and makes a person feel like eating. It also aids the digestion. The average user of the poison takes it in such small quantities that he does not realize how much of it will accumulate in his system in the course of four or five years.

"Being an accumulative poison, it often takes that length of time to see the results of the drug. Then the user may complain of not being able to control his fingers or toes. Subsequently, he loses control of his hands and arms. Arsenical poisoning is the result.

"Five years ago in Manchester there was an epidemic of paralysis. Several thousands of persons were fessor and his wife dropped by stricken. Several hundred died, and malady and traced it to beer. The brewing of their product, which was found to contain a small quantity of blood, and left a great percentage of them helpless.

NO USE FOR "CITY FOLKS"

"But There Is Some Good Everywhere." Said the Hospitable Old Fisherman

There are regions where to hail from the city is hardly more respectone takes it either by prescription for able than to be a baron in New York society, the New York Evening Sun says. Hear the tale of the hospitable Nova Scotia fisherman and the professor from a city university.

Far up in Nova Scotia on that parrow strip of beach that divides the Bay of Fundy from the Bay of Yarmouth, stands a fisherman's cottage. The professor and his wife were walking the adjacent beach when they heard a voice behind them say, "How dee do, folks?" A little old woman in a calico dress was standing in the doorway. "How dee do-" said she with a friendly smile. "Drop by and chat a while? Pa," she continued to some one with in doors-"Pa, here's folks.

The kitchen, which would have the medical profession of England been small in a Harlem flat, was filled made a thorough investigation of the with a deal table, a stove and two chairs. "Dinner's nigh ready." said investigators discovered that the the old woman, stepping to the door brewers were using a glucose in the and shading her eyes as she looked seaward.

Pa laid the kitchen table with platarsenic. This drug, imbibed in small ters of fresh lobster meat and a huckquantities in beer, had gradually ac- leberry pie. The odor of coffee filled cumulated in the bodies of thousands the air. "Set ye down," said the old of persons; had impoverished their man, beaming with hospitality-"set ye down and feed. Who'll have his lobster fried in butter?" And while ma and the guests sat down he fried lobster and poured coffee. At the close of the meal the pro-essor said: "Captain, you and your wife must come up to the hotel tomorrow and have dinner with us. Now, don't say you can't! We are going back to the city the next day, so tomorrow is the only chance to have you.' A look of alarm and pain showed in the faces of the fisherman and his wife. "Laws." said pa. "the hotel!" 'Laws!" said ma. "City folks!" "Why, yes," said the professor's wife. "We're from New York. Does that matter?

"Never you mind, ma," said pa, consoling her. "And I alwus told ye here's good folks everywhere? Ain't I alwus told ye that? And takin' it all an' all it ain't likely any one'll

No Sage Hen for Him.

Harry Carr of Broadway, New York, recently made a trip to Reno. and owing to a sudden turn of circumstances lingered there until he was hungry. At length Mr. Carr, having letached a dollar from a protesting friend, entered a Reno restaurant "Sage hen," said the waiter, not as one offering a query, but as a person stating a fact. "What's sage hen?" asked Mr. Carr. The waiter said it was a bird, native to the desert country. "Has it got wings?" asked Mr. Carr. The waiter said it had. "Then, said Mr. Carr, decisively, "I don't want no sage hen. I won't eat nothin' that has wings-and yet stays in Ne-
